

We promote professionalism

International Construction and Architecture Fair BUDMA, the most important meeting of construction industry professionals in Central and Eastern Europe, will be held on a new date, on March 11-14, 2014.

The companies defined as the industry leaders have already announced their participation in the first spring edition of the Fair.

The theme of the next year's edition: Inspiration, Construction, Repair got a new dimension, emphasizing particularly the most important "steps" in the process of creating the surrounding architecture, but also the strive to raise the standards and implement the latest technologies in construction.

As every year, producers and distributors from dozens of countries will present their products for residential, non-residential and infrastructure construction industry. The fair is dedicated to the four major groups of visitors: architects, contractors, traders and property developers.

Hundreds of new products and the latest technologies presented in Poznań during the series of the BUDMA fair exhibitions provide a complete picture of the transformation in the approach to modern construction industry, more environmentally friendly and economical, based on good, functional and aesthetic spatial solutions, achieved by the conscious decisions made in the designing process and the use of the cutting-edge materials. The products awarded the Gold Medals, on the other hand, are an inspiration and a guarantee of the highest quality and innovation for the professionals visiting the fair.

International Construction and Architecture Fair BUDMA, in addition to the continuation of projects that have gained recognition among both exhibitors and visitors, such as the Forum of Architecture, Distributor's Day or Test Zone, is also a return to the extremely important "bathroom sector": a modified edition of Bathroom and Wellness Exhibition AquaSan is planned.

There will be plenty of interesting events significantly complementing the fair exhibition: shows and competitions of the best experts in their fields, conferences, workshops and debates, as well as, traditionally, meetings with a world-famous architect. Interior designers and architects will surely be interested in the International Fireplace Fair KOMINKI, which will be a part of next year's construction fair block.

An important element of the fair is also the only one in Poland exhibition of products and portfolio of companies dealing with sports infrastructure. What is meant here is the CBS Fair - Sports Facilities Fair, which is mainly addressed to the representatives of local governments and investors who plan to build or modernize sports facilities from football pitches, swimming pools, sports parks to playgrounds. A large number of CBS exhibitors makes the event an excellent opportunity for the visitors to see, in one place at one time, the latest trends and technologies existing in the sports facility construction. During the CBS Fair it will be possible to compare the offer of dozens of the most respected companies in the industry sector, as well as contact their representatives directly and develop the sports facility industry in Poland.
